

OF ORANGE COUNTY

FPA members Susan Goodman, Colin Kilpatrick, Daniel Sands, Jodi Selleck, and Fina Sneed worked in conjunction with local nonprofit, KidWorks, to teach junior high students the basics on prudent money management techniques.

The concepts of budgeting, compound interest, and goals based saving were introduced through both lecture-based, and hands-on learning activities. To help reinforce learning objectives, students developed personal money management slogans such as, "Just save it!", "Think before you spend," and "Saving for monetary dreams will achieve your dreams." Not bad for junior highers! Following the workshop, KidWorks adamantly asked if FPA members plan on returning. The answer was a resounding yes.

The FPA would like to thank the KidsWorks staff members for giving FPA volunteers the opportunity to work with their junior high students. Kriss Marr, Claudia Soto-Neira, Briseida Castaneda, Jacquelynn Hernandez, and Melissa Peralta made our volunteers feel very welcome. They did a great job coordinating the event, and also encouraging the students during the workshop to participate in all the activities.

To ensure we continue helping local organizations like KidWorks, the FPA is seeking members wishing to offer their time and experience. Please contact Colin Kilpatrick of the Pro Bono and Volunteer Development Committees for further information.

###

July 30th, 2015 — This column is provided by the Financial Planning Association® (FPA®) of Orange County, the principle professional organization for CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®) professionals. FPA is the community that fosters the value of financial planning and advances the financial planning profession and its members demonstrate and support a professional commitment to education and a client-centered financial planning process. <http://www.fpaoc.org/>